

There are a million things you can do with your life before a brain injury happens. Or a mental illness hammers you into the ground or even PTSD. The problem is once that happens...

Hey everyone Kurt here from careersforbraininjured.com. If you study our work, we've worked with plenty of clients, helping them build exceptional... well let's call it for what it is, resilient, income therapy businesses. Don't panic at the sound of that, it's only a maximum of 20 clients per year. And these individuals go out and they use the strategies that we help them build to service their clients on a project basis. Those projects can be a half day to two weeks long, depending on your capacity. Then they bring home the bacon to their families with a smile on their face. We've had a tremendous impact in the industry and it's been a lot of fun.

But I wanted to actually share some things with you today that we are letting out of the bag. It's gonna be really, really exciting for you. But before I get into that, there are so many people who are saying that they can do something and then you find out the hard way that they cannot. Maybe it's happened to you. I know it's happened to me for years prior to learning this and I was just going to take a second and show you some of these results that we have been privileged to provide for our team and our clients.

Check this out. This is, these are all us or our clients, by the way. These are case studies and things that people have sent us. 13 calls, five closes. That's normal or even low. Then this one is $6,000 and the deposit was half of that.

This is Rick whose Dad had mental illness and was able at 18 to buy his own iphone brand new and pay the ongoing monthly bill. Rick moved on and now creates graphic design for the Cyberpunk series.

$15,000 God bless Dave, that's all due to one of our programs. Check this out. $9,800 for a commercial contract that was completed in 10 days.

These are real people with real projects, that are real clients, that we help them work out finding bite-sized work, finishing that work well, getting paid every time and most importantly resting - before doing it all over again. Keep it simple a, b, c, collect, repeat.

Look at this Gerry $4,000, Brando, $3,000 right here. Laura is now an engineer. We've actually had 3 engineers come work with us and they were happy to do so.

And you can just see by the volume in here that this is, these are year over year dozens and dozens and dozens of wins in this folder and say that, why am I saying all that? I'm saying all of this to show you that at the end of the day, you want to learn from the people who have exhibited proof that they can actually help you. People who have been there and done it. Not to people advising you about your health when income is the problem. Not people who have consistent pay-cheques and healthy minds with great educations and likely ideal circumstances to get there. They wouldn't last a minute out here in the real world, let alone on this planet with what you're managing inside your heart and mind as well. Their job is healthcare, our job is you earning money for bills. How would you manage your health differently if your bills were paid? Likely with some compassion.

Do you have kids too? Add it up, health issues, career problems and kids. It's crazy what we handle or don't handle as the case may be. The people who have proof that we transfer what's up here into our clients minds and help them meet the day to day needs of their own clients is why we do what we love.

All right, so how do we do that? Let me tell you exactly, one of the best ways that we can actually help you and serve you in your business is what we call the timed test. That's right, you just do the work as best you can and see how long it takes you. That one single 2 – 4 hour process determines how much you can make in a whole year.

So every month, our company, which equips brain injured and mentally ill people to earn sufficient money while managing their health, has easily spent over a hundred thousand dollars time testing our skills and our processes as well. All right, so we've tested our skills and processes. An example that you're hearing about right now that we're actually investing a bit of money in, is to show you how to do one simple primary task and talking to you like you were still in there. The real you, prior to trauma. And you can leverage that one process, as an adult, to learn every other critical aspect in our courses. So even if your memory won't remember, you can still look like you know what you're doing and figure out where you're at in the process at any time. It can really save the distress of having to know it all, all of the time., when your memory is not working. If you're in still there and can fight like hell every couple of days, this will work for you.

Another message that I believe can be a value to you. We've done a lot of things wrong and we learned all throughout the process. So there is nothing you encounter in your projects that we cannot help with. And we try to learn the hard lessons and the experiments on our own so we could pass it to you. In fact two of those lessons alone will save you as much as $50 000. And it's just one of the coolest ways that we share what we're working on with results for credibility and proof.

This isn't something that we're doing to make a ton of money. We have a lot of different ways that we make money in our business. But this is something that we're motivated by getting the right kinds of help into the world, because brain injured or mentally ill people like you or your family member or your friend, could really use a hand up. And maybe your care providers and family supporters need to see some live encouragement too.

The fulfillment that comes from us working side by side with you is a major game changer. After all, it is always easier, let me say that again, it is always easier to find a project than get a job. Every single time. You earn more money and it is better for your health too! 20 clients per year maximum, that is all it takes.

But let me tell you what's not going to overcome your troubles. Here's what's not going to grow your business - doing nothing. Sitting there being a little baby hating on the world around you saying, well, why are you doing this? Well, that doesn't make sense. It's not going to save you or your family. You're not going to get any value out of just doing nothing and sitting there and constantly pointing your finger at everyone else but yourself. Will it be hard? Yeah likely, at first, most things are. But it gets easier fast when you're making thousands per month.

So you're cool to ask questions, but please, if you live in your mom's basement and you're just going to be a hater, skip on past this ad and come back another day. Real people willing to do the work and their families need my help.

All right? So let us know if you have any questions. We constantly check our emails. We'll respond to needs anytime day or night when we can and hope to see you on the inside soon.

All right. Cheers. Book a meeting and sign up soon.
